

MASTER OF INTERNATIONAL PUBLIC POLICY AND MANAGEMENT

The Price School's Master of International Public Policy and Management (IPPAM) is an interdisciplinary degree designed expressly for international students that provides a comparative focus on policy and social issues. It is a premier program for early to mid-career professionals interested in working cross-culturally and cross-sectorally with colleagues from around the globe in an immersive environment.

The IPPAM program offers an academic curriculum with a dual emphasis on public policy and management. IPPAM students represent a diversity of professions and have interests that span the range of public policy disciplines. Students can customize their educational and professional objectives by selecting among specialization areas offered by the Price School:

- Public Management & Finance
- Environmental Policy & Planning
- Transportation Policy & Planning
- Housing Policy & Real Estate
- Business/Social Entrepreneurship
- Data Science & Analytical Methods
- International & Economic Development
- Education Management & Policy
- Health Policy & Management
- Communication & Media
- Nonprofit Management/Social Innovation
- Public-Private Partnerships/Collaboration
